Belle Glade's most conspicuous eyesore which the Belle Glade property on the east side of North Main has successfully resisted over the years all opportunities for a face-lifting job, is rumored to be the site of a modern shopping center, with national chainstores as tenants.

The City Commission, following representations made to it by the Hunt Real Estate firm of Ft. Lauderdale, agreed to close Avenue B eastward from North Main to First for the benefit of getting the site cleared up and a shopping center erected there.

The proposition includes the widening of the Canal Street entrance from North Main, fifty feet, tapering off to existing width of the street 150 feet eastward. Also, it is reported that twenty feet will be provided by the property owners for the widening of Avenue B for the distance of the property eastward. Also the city will pay an alley dedicated to the public on the rear of the property.

Fla. Truck Lines Seek Rate Boost

Florida truck lines will seek a 15 percent increase in freight rates this week at a public hearing before the Florida Railroad and Public Utilities Commission in Jacksonville. If successful, it would cause an increase in freight costs of approximately $9,000 dollars annually for shippers and receivers in Palm Beach County, according to Leo Caro, Chairman of the Freight Rate Advisory Committee, Joint Cooperative Council.

"Residents and businessmen of Palm Beach County will be represented at the three day hearing by Dwight Green, Assistant Director of the Palm Beach County Freight Traffic Bureau," Caro added, "and will actively oppose this increase by exhibits and testimony to refute the arguments of the truck lines that more revenue is needed."

Caro reported that four other municipal traffic bureaus in the State would also participate in the opposition and all of the bureaus will coordinate their efforts to defeat the proposed increase or, at least, minimize it.

Rams' Season .556 Clewiston Bows Out

Decision last week by Suncoast Conference athletic directors to sanction cancellation of five baseball games delayed by weather or conflicting activities rang down the curtain on the Rams' 13th year. Spring football drills this week and last, a novelty in the Suncoast after being banned for 12 years, will conclude the Rams' athletic endeavors for the waning school year.

Forest Hill, unbeaten baseball champions, also won five of their games. During the year out of 10 possible, Falcon trophies will be awarded for track, basketball, boys golf and tennis and girls swimming in addition to the Glades. Belle Glade was football champion in the 1959-60 year in suncoast play after a dozen years of waiting. Vero Beach won the girls golf. Lake Division, Appropriations And Extra Session Baffle Legislators

The appropriation battle started today and is still going on as the telegram is sent. Early indications are that amendments will seek to make substantial cuts in a number of areas.

However, it is most apparent that many needs exist in the state that must be provided for. The appropriation committee has submitted a bill of 1 billion dollars which includes capital outlay for construction of the Florida Atlantic University and the state college. It also includes relief in many areas of our public school minimum foundation program with increased pay for our teachers.

It is difficult for many of our citizens to realize that Florida now spends in the area of one billion dollars, but when one sees the many needs such as child training schools, mental and sundland schools; and education to keep pace with a growing state, there is no question that we must face up to our responsibilities. Florida's future is at stake.

Considerable paving will be done West and north of the Lake Shore Schools.

Commission will in the near future make a report to determine what should be done to better this situation.

The report of the Road Department on the road needs of the Belle Glade area is now available and affords us a definite program of action for future requests.

The session is now in the closing three weeks with most local bills having been introduced the outdoor recreation bill has passed both houses. No one knows yet whether an extended session will be necessary.

Patio Cookout Time Says Jim Herring

"There are lots of inexpensive cuts of beef that make mighty good outdoor eating," says James M. Herring, cattleman and president of the Palm Beach County Cattlemen's Association. For outdoor cooking, choose any meat you would cook at home. Right now club steaks and sirloin steaks are good buys. So are cubed steaks and ground beef. And the choice of any of these will usually please every body."

The Beef Council had some hints about cooking outdoors, too. Get your fire started early. Before cooking, let the fire burn down to a bed of glowing coals. Rub the rack with fat to prevent sticking. If you use wood with your charcoal, use the hardwoods, such as oak, elm, maple or hickory. Many good outdoor cooks like to sprinkle dampened hickory chips on the hot coals for the extra smoky taste they impart to the cooking.

Herring has a method of his own for fixing patio patties that he says are "Out of this world". Here it is. Try it yourself and see.

Patio Patties

Season each pound of ground beef with one teaspoon of salt, and one eighth of a teaspoon of pepper. To the mixture, add a teaspoon of Worcestershire sauce and mix well. For extra juicy beefburgers, add a quarter of a cup of cold water per pound of meat.

Shape patties, making four from each pound of ground meat. Fry on hot, greased rack, about three inches above the coals, turning to sear. Always use tongs for turning instead of piercing with a fork.

Patio Barbecue Sauce

1 Tablespoon of fat
1/2 cup hot catsup
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 teaspoon dry mustard.
Brush with Patio Barbecue Sauce just before removing from the heat.

THE FARM

I'm expecting to hear one of these days that one of our enterprising Florida cattlemen has started a feeding operation similar to one which has produced startling results in Texas.

As reported in a recent issue of Farm Journal, the Spur, Texas, Experiment station is proving that you don't need grazing land for a successful cow-calf operation. After three years of testing, their cows and calves in a drylot are doing better than those on range.

When you think of what it would cost today to acquire sufficient land to get into the cattle business in the conventional manner with adequate grazing acreage, you can see the advantage of a drylot for beef cow.

Compared with the range method, the Texas drylot report shows: a higher percent calf drop; heavier calves at weaning; improved breeding efficiency; control of feed supply; more flexibility for expansion and less capital investment.

There is one problem, however. Someone has to be on hand 365 days a year to feed those cows.

Sometimes automation and control by computers can be carried too far.

I note a report from Nice, France, that a super market there has had to abandon a plan to have customers take a punched card with each item they selected. The cards provide detailed information on sale, tax, stock and margin for management.

The store management liked the system but the customers rebelled. Too much time was required to run the cards through tabulation at the checkout counter.

The 32d (Red Arrow) Infantry Division, now an all-Wisconsin command, qualified for assignment to STRAC (The Strategic Army Corps) during its active duty service in the Berlin Crisis. In WWII, the 32d composed of Wisconsin and Michigan Guardsmen, saw more sustained combat than any other U. S. division. It was in action in the southwest Pacific even before the first North African landings and was still fighting it out in northern Luzon on V-J Day in 1945.

Troop 264 Enjoys Weekend Campout

Troop 264 enjoyed a campout at Hugh Taylor Birch Park in Ft. Lauderdale last weekend. Eighteen of the Girls' Scouts and four of their mothers along with guests Patti Roberts, Ann Laura Cross and Anna Thompson were included in the group.

The girls set up camp and cooked their own meals but the hunkies was the wind and surf with plenty of sun.

Mrs. Louise Betts carried a group to church on Sunday morning while those remaining at camp conducted their own worship services. Pam Whitlock, Janet Wolf, Kathy Morris, Karen Parker and Cathy Battle of the Boys' Patrol planned a very impressive worship service under the pines.

The Troop, along with their leader, Mrs. Doug Thompson, wishes to thank those mothers who made the trip possible by acting as chaperones, assistant cooks, tent pitchers etc. They were Mrs. Louise Betts, Mrs. Francis Harris and Mrs. Francis Cross.

Camping fees are $23.00 for the one week session and $28.00 for the two week sessions. A reduced camping fee is offered to members of Youth Conservation Clubs and Junior Gardeners of $20.00 per week or $45.00 for other outdoor sports and recreation.

Fruit-Vegetable Clinic On Marketing In June

Prominent marketing authorities at national and state levels have been lined up as speakers at the first Florida Citrus and Vegetable Marketing Clinic to be held in Lakeland on June 27th.

Harris Mullen, publisher of Florida Grower and Rancher, the sponsor of this clinic, emphasized that "this is not a 'high brow' clinic, appealing to these engaged solely in marketing, but a down-to-earth presentation of how marketing affects all levels of agriculture—especially the growers and farmers."

All sessions will be held in the Civic Center theatre fronting on Lake Mirror in Lakeland.

Faith For Today

By Roscoe Knight, Min.

God does not promise for us that which is needed for tomorrow, only that which we must have to meet today's need. This is as true concerning our faith as the material things of this life.

For us to have a faith sufficient to give him today our love must be found in these three areas: (1) Faith in Self, (2) Faith in others, (3) Faith in God. Shall we consider the subject then, in this order?

"The one talent man failed his love to give the Bible gives us the reason 'I was afraid.' Many people are being defeated in their lives because they are afraid. Success comes in 'cans' not in 'Can'ts.' Learn to say I can and do the task before me."

Faith in others will keep us from becoming seared on us that which is needed for tomorrow, only that which we must have to meet today's need. This is as true concerning our faith as the material things of this life.

The most important is to have faith in God. The Hebrew writer stated that without faith it is impossible to please him. Heb. 11:6.

Faith in God then, means that we have faith in his word, as a lamp for our feet and light for our path, faith in his commands as found in Acts 2:38, Matt. 26:38ff, Mark 16:15-16, Faith in his promises, "He that is faithful unto the end shall receive the crown of life."

Faith is a great subject a study of the Word of God produces it. Faith comes of hearing and hearing by the word of God. Rom. 10:17.

The Conventions In U. S. This Year

"It will be three conventions instead of two for the United States this year," Miles P. Crum, preaching minister of the Belle Glade congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced last night. This came as a surprise to the congregation as Mr. Crum read the announcement from the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society, convention sponsors.

"Milwaukee has been added to New York and Los Angeles," Mr. Crum said. "This became necessary due to limited facilities in New York. The new stadium for the New York Mets baseball club is not completed, and thus the Polo grounds will not be available for our use," he added.

According to Mr. Crum the majority of the congregation will be traveling to New York for the 3-day gathering which will be held July 7-14 in Yankee Stadium. A crowd of 125,000 is expected to rite New York meeting.

"This will be our sixth convention in Yankee Stadium since 1959," Mr. Crum pointed out. "Following the New York gathering," he continued, "We will be back here for conventions around the world. There will be 22 in all which will take some 550 delegates from the United States and Canada to Europe, Asia, Australia, Philippines, Hawaii and back to the United States for the Los Angeles convention in just sixty days."

"We expect 1963 to be one of the outstanding years in our history," Mr. Crum said. "Our congregation along with all the other congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses world wide will be working 100 percent to accomplish this," Mr. Crum concluded.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Acts 5:1-11

Unto whomsoever much is given, of him shall be much required. (Luke 12:48).

The above verse speaks to us of our accountability to God. We have been, and always are, recipients of God's love and blessings. Unfortunately, we do not give Him back the best and the most that we have. We tend to become like Ananias and Sapphira; we try to hide from Him what we can give and ought to give to advance His cause.

It is very easy to sing: "Had I a thousand hearts to give, Lord, they'd all be Thine." Yet we find it very hard to give Him the best that we have in life — talent, time, strength, service, money. Often we give Him only our scraps.

In consideration of all God is ever doing for us, we need to recognize our accountability to Him and think what it means. In the advancement of God's kingdom, what a different world this would be!

PRAYER: Our heavenly Father, help us to be aware that Thou art the giver of every good and perfect gift. Thou hast continued to bless our lives, though we do not deserve Thy divine blessing. Forgive us of our selfishness and self-centeredness. Grant that we may give our best and do our best for Thee, In Jesus' name. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY
God continuously gives us blessings day by day. What do we give Him in return?

YOU CANNOT LOSE YOUR PLACE IN LIFE

the MOTHER who couldn't take it

Once there was a mother who had a normal, healthy boy. And he liked to do the things that normal, healthy boys like to do.

But, for a long while, Mother couldn't take it. She kept saying, "DON'T Bobby — you'll hurt yourself."

One day, as she passed the playground, she marveled at a bold youngster's feats on the horizontal bar. And, coming closer, she discovered it was Bobby!

Now she has more confidence in her son... and better understanding his confidence in himself.

With confidence and understanding. In churches of our community youthful eagerness is directed toward right motives, high ideals, clean activities. Moral and spiritual conviction begin to supersede daring and pride as incentives for action.

Your child already has faith in himself. Through the Church's guidance and your example this rudimentary faith can be enriched and tempered by faith in God.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest force on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend service regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

by
JOHN CAUSEY
Associate County Agent
Glades Area

The Sugar Cane harvest came to a rather sudden conclusion with the heavy rains last Friday. The completion of harvest had been expected for several days but not as sudden as it did happen. In spite of the severe freeze in December and the late start of several of the mills, growers who were able to harvest their cane seem to have come through the season with a fair return for their crop. Very good yields have been reported from some of the close-in and the long growing season.

area got plenty of rain with reported damage scattered throughout the area. However, the damage was not as severe as reported by growers in the Coast area when as high as 14 in. of rain was recorded. This heavy rain was rather general in the Delray Beach area and here again brought a rather abrupt ending to the farming season.

The County Agent's Office would like to remind growers, both vegetable and sugar cane, of the damage that can be caused by careless spraying of 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T weedkillers. Several vegetable growers in the area have already received damage to their crops from the use of 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T in cane fields. Extreme caution should be used when spraying with 2, 4-D and 2, 4, 5-T to avoid drift of this spray to the vegetable fields. Winds should not be more than 5 MPH and blowing away from close-by vegetable fields. Airplanes should only be used under carefully supervised conditions and not less than 4 miles from susceptible vegetable crops except under very favorable condition. FOR THE HOME GARDENER Now is the best time to increase your ornamental plants around the home. Plants that will propagate by cutting will do so very better than any other time of the year. So if you have plants you wish to root now is the time to put your cutting in the ground. For best results, keep or cover sun should be used as this type of sand will afford better drainage yet hold sufficient moisture to develop roots.

The best or most successful method of plant propagation is by air layering, or more commonly referred to as, Air Layering. The propagation of a cutting while it is still attached to the parent plant. Your County Agent's Office has a bulletin which describes this method of propagation in full detail.

Speaking of bulletins, the State Department of Agriculture has a new bulletin just published entitled "Grades and Standards for Nursery Plants." This is a very excellent publication in that it describes a wide variety of plants by scientific name and common name along with photographs of the three grades of nursery plants set up for Florida Nurserymen. These bulletins are available to anyone who wishes to receive a copy at no charge by writing to the Division of Plant Industry, Florida Department of Agriculture, Gainesville, Florida.

'28 Hurricane Hero—Ivan Van Horn's A Part Of Glades Modern History

Cattfish and a few beans rounded out the wage-producing efforts of the early dredge and boat hands on Lake Okeechobee. Ivan and his brother Clifford first attended school at Okeechobee having to row a boat about eight miles each way until a school opened at South Bay.

Mrs. Van Horn is the daughter of Jim Mabry a homesteader in Ritts Island who came to the Glades as a surveyor on the early canals. Mrs. Van Horn was one of the first residents of the Glades as a flower show judge and is prominent throughout South Florida with Garden Clubs.

Standard Dealer in the Belle Glade area, Ivan Van Horn ranks along with Lawrence Will as a long-time resident, and he will quite whatever he's doing if asked a particular question about back yonder in the Twenties. — Ivan came in 1914. This Glades resident of some 49 years says, "When Gertrude and I were married in '25 in South Bay, we drove my Dad's Model T over the muck road to West Palm."

"At South Bay, we drove on to a ferry, untied and pulled it across the North New River, tied the ferry up and proceeded to Six Mile Bend where we repeated the performance to cross the canal, and the same at Twenty-Mile-Bend." Asked about the volume of vegetable shipments from the Glades in those days, Ivan told us: "Each day I piloted a boat and barge over here from Clewiston, and beginning about 2 mile below where Belle Glade now is, we took the beans from canal banks where the farmers had 'toted' them, and were able to take to the railroad at Clewiston each night all the beans from the Belle Glade-South Bay area. I wonder just how many barges it would take to move all the vegetables harvested in the same area now some 20,000 carlots per year and as high as 500 carlots in one day during the peak in May."

Ivan found it necessary to supplement the farming operation he and his father began on forty acres, just east of Belle Glade in 1914.

He has worked on the Lake and on the Canals and had several years experience on dred-

Annual Experiment Station Bar-B-Q Enjoyed By More Than 250 Saturday

Attendance was estimated at over 250 at the Annual Experiment Station Barbecue held Saturday afternoon including staff members, employees and families from Ev. Station, USDA Fiber Lab, Indian River and Vastation Field Laboratories.

The barbecue pit was reigned over by Dr. Herb Chapman and Chuck Haines, who readily admit that Ed Hicks, John Jones and Howard Markham should get the major credit for the most excellent beef which was served up along with all the extra trimmings, brought in by the ladies.

Afternoon activities planned by Tharon Casselman, Bob Allen and Dallas Neils varied from croquet games, horseshoe pitching and soft ball to sand pits for the little ones and just sitting in the shade, and talking for the bigger ones not inclined to more strenuous activity.

No formal records were kept of the contests but in the softball game the "Oldsters" (51 years down) managed more runs than the "Youngsters" (about 11 and up). Best play of the day was made by Miss Merikay Mincey, who nipped an oldsters rally by snagging a line drive and doubling up a runner with a fast throw to first base.

Preceding the barbecue Dr.

Thomas Forsee paid a special tribute to Bob Fleish, field assistant who will retire from the station next month.

Summer's coming, get going!

If this isn't a great time to get yourself a new Chevrolet—well, we just don't know when it is. Why, you'd almost have to be anti-summer not to let one of these four convertibles get to you. Or any of Chevrolet's sedans, wagons, sport coupes and sport sedans, for that matter.

And there are a lot of other buy-now reasons besides the season. Like the care-free feeling you get on a long vacation trip in a brand-new car. And it's a smart time to trade, what with your Chevrolet dealer all stocked up for a busy summer. Chances are, he has just the model and color you want — be it Chevrolet, Chevy II, Corvair or Corvette—ready to go right now. So maybe now you're all wound up? Then spring into summer at your Chevrolet dealer's.

South Bay Lions

Tied With 3-3

Friday, May 10

In a close game for four innings South Bay Lions fanned Power Gas 10 to 6. The game being tied three times in the first three innings by good hitting and fielding on both teams saw Lions ahead by two runs in the fourth and was never headed after that.

In the last game South Bay Growers beat Union 6 to 2. Union pitching held Growers in check on their hitting but the difference was in the base running as Growers continuously stole bases.

Saturday, May 11

In one of the best games played to date on the South Bay field the South Bay Lions came from behind twice to hand the South Bay Growers their first defeat of the season and pulled into a tie for first place with the Growers. The deciding runs came on a single in the bottom of the fifth inning, and Lions managed to hold on for the remainder of the time limit. The final score was 6 to 5.

The second game saw Power Gas Wallop Union 10 to 0. Gas was in command all the way as Union could never get a serious threat going. Gas being the leader in most of their games the past two years have shown vast improvement and will be hard to beat in the remaining games.

I. SR 25, US 27 — The four-lane section under construction should be continued through South Bay and farther to the south as required. Limited access should be provided in order that the interference of heavily laden trucks entering and leaving the traffic stream is minimized. Considerable study in cooperation with public officials and plantation owners should be applied to position the entrances as advantageously as possible. Special truck acceleration and deceleration lanes may have to be provided and unpaved consideration given to turning radii and the like.

II. SR 80 — The portion of SR 80 from South Bay to Belle Glade thence east as US 441 requires the same treatment as US 27 with thought given to a relocation from SR 15 north of the Hillsborough Canal eastward to Greerworth. This would aid the situation both just north and south of the canal where a considerable amount of trucking movements are encountered. A second alternative relocation might be extension of SR 80 eastward from SR 827A to a junction with US 441 near the Agriculture Experiment Station. The four-lane section should extend eastward as required.

III. US 441 — This section also is in need of four-lane widening with some precautions concerning the special requirements of the sugar trucks given consideration. The bridge over Hillsborough Canal is in deplorable condition and it might be necessary to construct a twin structure in order to separate the turning movements now taking place on either side of the canal crossing. Because of the north-south canal running parallel to the existing section, it may be necessary to relocate or provide a one-way pair through the city between north and south city limits. Only a field location with estimates of rights-of-way can ultimately solve the actual location of the improvement.

IV. SR 715 — This section is presently serving as a bypass around the built up area and within a few years will require four travel lanes to accommodate the traffic volumes. It is thought at this time that the truck usage of this route, particularly between SR 80 and Avenue "L" would warrant immediate improvement with the increase in traffic service continued to the north as warranted. Precautions similar to those specified for US 27 and US 441 should be applied to this route.

V. SR 717 — This section within the city limits is now tolerable and good except for the structures. As it does not seem desirable for the heavy trucks to use this route because the railroad yards evidently are located farther north, little improvement other than to the structures should be considered for the present except where intersecting US 441 and SR 715. Outside the city limits this section is poor and tolerable with critical structures. If heavy traffic volumes which include sugar trucks are expected in this portion, then appropriate improvements should be undertaken to provide the heavy duty facility required.

UNCLE DAN from DOOLIE says:

D. C. T. Student

Dear Mister Editor:

I been in a state of shock all week over a item quoting a official from the U. S. Department of Education. It seems the experts has started teaching a new system of arithmetic to the school youngsters. They ain't got it going in all the schools yet, the piece says, but by 1965 they hope to have the old system done away with complete and the new one installed all over the country.

I read the piece 6 times, Mister Editor, and on the last time around I knowed me or them was crazy and, natural, it had to be me. They got the Constitution and the Administration on their side and, like the feller said, you can't beat city hall. In the first place, the experts is doing away with the "Tutem System," which is the two times two is four system. They say this ain't true if you use "Base Seven." I reckon Base Seven as a first cousin to Third Base or Cloud Nine or somep'n. Anyhow, Base Seven and Tutem is in conflict. It was so right on the front page.

Furthermore, they allow as how it ain't important in this arithmetic to know what a circle is, the main thing is to know "what happens when the circle loses its roundness."

And in this new system of arithmetic for the school kids of 1965, they won't be no such thing as a line. It will be known as a "set of points standing shoulder to shoulder."

But I reckon, like this piece says, the next generation has got to have a "Univar mind" to keep pace with space. In another 20 year, when a feller wants to call up his wife at the factory where she's working, he'll have to dial 663-2549 and tell 'em his Social Security 243-48-9565. Internal Revenue Service 44-6005846 calling SS 244-07-0037, IRS 43-610-5745, please. And a feller can't handle that situation with the kind of arithmetic we got now.

I started to report these matters to the fella at the country store Saturday night, but I got to figuring it wasn't no use in having everybody going crazy at the same time, at least not till 1965.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

A Point of View

Wayne Wood

With the current transition of Florida into a two-party state, and with the strong possibility that the 1964 Republican Presidential convention will be held just eighty miles from Belle Glade, there is a rising swell of interest in this year's Presidential elections. Who will be the GOP candidate to face the "New Frontier"? This question is a big one for the Republican Party.

The list of possible candidates is becoming more sharply defined. Nixon may be ruled out because of his act of political hara-kiri in the California elections last fall; Rockefeller somewhat dimmed his chances with his recent divorce and subsequent remarriage; and Gov. Scrantom of Pennsylvania, Senator Morton of Kentucky, and Gov. Romney of Michigan are presently not well-known enough to set up a formidable front. This leaves Senator Barry Goldwater, a man whose chances are equally uncertain. But Goldwater has a number of things in his favor that could possibly bring about his nomination.

Senator Goldwater is a political paradox. He is reviving the "conservative" image to a time when liberalism and socialism; he is speaking out boldly against what is considered the "political vogue" of the era; and he has been consistently and overwhelmingly re-elected in a solidly Democratic state.

The next question to arise is "Can Goldwater beat Kennedy?" There seems to be a great deal of doubt in many Republican minds that he can. The thump, political tower of the Kennedy appears to have a hard time to topple by anyone. The theme that "Goldwater can't win" certainly has not added any to the ever-growing Goldwater-backing throng.

And just as certain is the fact that if this trend of thought is maintained and 51 percent of the Republicans convince themselves that he can't win, then he won't. Simple.

But Barry M. Goldwater—best-selling author, jet pilot, syndicated columnist, and the nation's leading conservative—CAN win. I make this statement for the following reasons:

1. He possesses, much like Franklin Roosevelt did, a magnetic political personality, an all-important factor in today's televised politics.
2. Also like Roosevelt, he personifies a distinct political philosophy, so that his followers are ideologically unified.
3. The Kennedy Administration's "invisible" image is slowly deteriorating, and may have weakened sufficiently by election time.
4. Goldwater could amass a great bloc of electoral votes in the South, in the Midwest, and in the Mountain states. His followers have suggested that he could carry 242 of the nation's 538 electoral votes.

Goldwater is definitely a strong contender. He CAN win, but whether he will or not remains to be seen. At any rate, if he does win the nomination, a Kennedy-Goldwater contest would be an interesting one. It would help establish the two-party system in the South and give the country a spirited variety show. The issues would be clear and concise.

Goldwater has said that his political ideal would speak of values. "I have little interest in stimulating the government or making it more efficient, for I mean to reduce its size. I do not undertake to promote welfare, for I propose to extend freedom. My aim is not to pass laws, but to repeal them. It is not to inaugurate new programs, but to cancel old ones that do violence to the Constitution, or that have failed in their purpose, or that impose on the people unwarranted financial burden. I will not attempt to discover whether legislation is 'needed' before I determine whether it is constitutionally permissible. And if I should later be attacked for neglecting my constituents' interests, I shall reply that I was informed their main interest is in liberty and that in that cause I am doing the very best I can."

Such a staggering statement surely promises to unfold an interesting contest, if it comes about.

If it does, and Senator Goldwater is elected to the Presidency, the faculty of Harvard—the vanguard of American Liberalism—will undoubtedly dive for their bomb shelters and classify themselves as a disaster area. But it would be up to the state of Massachusetts—not the Federal Government—to look after them.

A Belle Glade Affair

By Peter Phangit

Take a close look around our fair city of Belle Glade. What meets the eye? Think about that question for a moment.

Our city is by no means another New York. It has its skyscrapers and turkeys. Yet, there is a consistency in its areas, old buildings, and a generalized find around about its parts of town. Some people may ask, "What can I do about it?"—others may try their shoulders and say "So what?" It doesn't concern the wealth and health of the city. DOES concern everyone around and on the outskirts of Belle Glade. There is a beauty and not enough effort put into it. Exchange on Main Street are a disgrace. Some could be torn down. All of these buildings need a new paint job, remodelling and various other work which would make them less hazardous. Other stores could stand a general white-washing and a good deodorizer for the old smells which are in a few of them.

This is not just a student job, but it is an adult job, too. Little boys, mischievous children who knock out window glass in old buildings and mark up sidewalks, public restrooms and buildings which obscene language and just plain, everyday attitudes of "It's there and I can't help it. I'd rather go to West Palm Beach or Miami, anyway," cannot help it. The residents of Belle Glade do not live in Miami or West Palm Beach. They live here, in this town, which, if groups are organized intelligently, may become a beauty spot not only to Belle Gladians, but also to tourists.

EVERYONE must pitch in and help. Once it is started then there's no stopping. But remember—Judge not lest ye be judged—start in your own back yard first!

All persons interested in taking the course contact Mr. Painter as soon as possible.

Kennedy Program In Trouble

By Sallie Collier

Will dissatisfaction over the handling of the Cuban issue cause lawmakers to back out of the President? The post-Easter period in Congress is expected to provide a key to the legislative outlook for the remainder of the session. This year, however, many Congressmen and senators did not return to their home states for the holiday. And those who did go home say they found no great change in the mood and currents that have dictated their positions during the first three months of the session.

A possible exception is the Cuban issue. Many Congressmen, the "people back home" are becoming increasingly frustrated with the presence of Castro's Communist Regime so close to the U. S. coast and the presence of Soviet might there. Voter impatience is mounting and for that reason, so is Congressional impatience. Much of this unhappiness is directed at President Kennedy. Rising opposition by the lawmakers to the administration's legislative proposal could result because of the threat of disenchantment with the White House. Some key parts of Kennedy's legislative program are in deep trouble.

In some areas, many observers feel that the administration tends to play up an issue rather than seek a solution at this time. President's gossip puts out such politically volatile issues as federal aid to education and Medicare coming not this year but next, when Kennedy will be in his second year in office. In the White House Kennedy would have either approval for the White House or in principle of his own. It is at talking points during his re-

Several other broad issues such as economy in government and intervention and the overtones of States' rights overhang his legislative session.

As for economy, it is fairly apparent that this issue in government is more talk than action at present. Though Congress will score some impressive gains in programs and appropriations, but it will increase others.

Two integration issues has put increased emphasis on state's rights in Congress. The Southern wing of the Democratic Party finds itself politically opposed to almost any enlargement of federal authority. As a result, two administration proposals are endangered: federal aid to education and the Security and Exchange Commission's plan to set up federal minimum standards of competence and conduct for security broker-dealers and salesmen.

Teacher Of Week

Ennice H. LaFlam is slated as teacher of the week.

Mrs. LaFlam has been teaching 2 years. She attended Berea College in Berea, Ky., for 4 years then Southeast Missouri State College at Cape Girardeau, Missouri her last 2 years.

Mrs. LaFlam was born in the North Carolina Mountains but prefers seaford (especially lobster) to the cold Mountain bear. Even though this is her first year at Belle Glade Junior and Senior High she has become well known for her quick smile, small stature, and large sense of humor.

The Gossiping Gandy

Summer is well on its way as everyone knows by the hot weather we've been having lately. Some people are finding ways of beating the heat.

At least four couples I know of spent Sunday afternoon at the beach. They were Alice C. and Bobby S., Becky H. and Van R., Maria G. and Johny B., and Sallie C. and Calvin W. I surely beat all around and slowly coasting. Janie L. and Billy C. went to the lake but didn't quite make it into the water. Freda L. went to the beach to cool off, but the results were just the opposite. Then there were some who devised their own ingenious methods of beating the heat. Just ask Petra E., Wanda T., and Ann B. who they liked riding around on lawn chairs in the back of a pickup truck.

Janitors And Road-Runners

Traffic lights may be installed at the intersection between room 14 and the boys locker room because of road-runners who think they are in the midst of all the clutter and clutter they are busily minding everyone's business. Talk in the "just stand with mops and mops ready to fly where duty calls."

So ready are they that Monday, May 5th, two of our janitors, in an effort to conserve water, turned on our hallways' lights on book carts. As they passed the D. C. T. room, they heepled, grinned at the flustered students watching them, then retreated and fled.

Who was it that said "Hang on to anything that works?"

Seniors, Goodbye!

By Sharon Wilder

"Hail to the dear Belle Glade High School, with your blue and gold... Live again with you in the morning, wake to sing you praise."

As we seniors walk through the gym doors the night of June 1st, with the alma mater rising in our ears, how will we face the future?

Many will be crying on family shoulders as old memories float through the air. Memories of the freshman class party of '59, the football games, the proms, the magazine sale, and the senior class play.

Beta Club Presents Service Awards

At the awards assembly held Wednesday, May 1, the Beta Club presented its annual service awards.

Wayne Wood, president of the club, first presented Mr. W. R. Groover, head of the student department, with a check for one hundred dollars to purchase equipment for that department. In making the presentation, Wayne commented that "the science department is an ever-growing and important part of our school curriculum. The Beta Club would like to help in maintaining its work with this gift."

Mr. Groover replied that the presentation was "unexpected, and will be put to good use."

Following him, Shabean, vice president John Shabean, presented three students with the annual Beta Club Award for Outstanding Scholastic Achievement. The awards, which are in the form of five silver dollars and a certificate, are given yearly to the students with the highest average in the ninth, tenth, and eleventh grades.

This year's recipients were Kathryn Kyrick, sophomore Glenn Wolf, Freshman; and Sharon Motes, junior. John presented the three with the awards, and concluded with the hope "that these will serve as a reminder for those receiving the awards to maintain the high achievement, and as a stimulus for others to strive for them."

Adv. Registration Held Last Week

Students in grades through 11 are registering for their next year's classes. Advanced Spring Registration is conducted every year. The reasons for this are: to determine class balance, staff selection, and to make the students aware of the importance of long range planning.

- 3 years English (4 for College Prep)
- 2 years math
- 1 year biology
- 2 years physical education
- 1 year home-making for girls
- 1 year physical science, which is one of the following subjects: chemistry, physics, home-making II, agriculture I or industrial arts, and 2 years social studies and 2 consecutive years of U. S. history.

D. C. T. is offered to seniors who wish to work part time. Mr. Fentzenberg the D. C. T. secretary must approve all D. C. T. students.

Information will be made available to all students who are interested in special summer courses. Courses offered are: driver education, personal typing, science, enrichment, and reading.

R. O. T. C. Plans Trip

The R. O. T. C. plans to have a festive trip after Graduation, better known as F. A. G. night, and later make a trip to Bimini.

The Royal Order of Teffice Juniors was formed several weeks ago by a group of interested Seniors who want to further the welfare and activities of the senior class. It had several meetings and several money making projects to help pay for their trip and Festivals after Graduation.

The F. A. G. night will be held at the country club after graduation. The R. O. T. C. hopes to raise enough money to stay over night in Bimini. They have had several meetings and several money making projects to help pay for their trip and Festivals after Graduation.
